

Job opening

published on December 17, 2019

Learn Luxembourgish is looking to expand its team of freelance Luxembourgish teachers.

Teachers are able to teach via Skype, from their own homes at days and times that suit them. Arrangements can be made to suit exam times (more work during quieter university months, and less work during exam time). The amount of teaching hours are flexible ranging from one to fifteen hours per week.

As you can arrange your own working hours, this is a great opportunity to make some money while you study.

You'll be joining a team of 9 other teachers in a highly creative, supportive and international company. Our freelancers and students live all over the world and we work together exclusively online using the latest collaboration tools.

Applicants must have a computer and an internet connection at home, speak Luxembourgish and English fluently and be passionate about languages/Luxembourgish. Knowledge of Luxembourgish grammar and spelling is a plus, but not required as you'll be trained by us.

Payment: 30€/lesson taught

Please email your CV to Liz at lizwenger@learnluxembourgish.com